The Term of Study.

1. The term of study, prior to licensure, is three annual sessions, of seven months each, beginning on the first Wednesday of September and ending the last Wednesday of March.

2. For the benefit of licentiates who have gone through the aforesaid term, there is an advance course of three months, beginning on the first Wednesday of October.

The Course of Study.

Systematic Theology.

1. It is inexpedient to designate any special text-book in the department of Systematic Theology, aside from the Scriptures and the subordinate Standards of the Church.

2. The entire system of Theology is divided into three sections, which are studied in their order, in as many sessions, so as to complete the regular course in three years. The first section ends with the topic of the Divine Decrees; the second with that of the Offices of Christ; the third with the close of the commonly recognized system.

Church Government and History.

1. The attention of the students during the first session is occupied with the history of the Old Testament Church; during the second, with the organization of the New Testament Church and its history to the Reformation; during the third with the Reformation and the history following to the present time.

2. The Bible, with Kurtz or such other works as are considered useful in different parts of the course, is used as the text book.

Biblical Criticism and Hermeneutics.

1. As far as possible, the whole of the Greek Testament is read in the course of three years; the Gospels forming the section of the first session; the Acts, with the Epistles to the Romans, and the Corinthians for the second session; and thence to the close of the New Testament, for the third session. In addition, certain portions are selected each session for particular exegetical examination.

2. The reading of the Hebrew Scriptures is in the following order, viz.: selections from the historical books in the first session; selections from the books of Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and the Song of Solomon in the second session; and selections from the remaining books in the third session.

Pastoral Theology.

In the department of Pastoral Theology the course is divided into three parts, one for each session, in the following order, viz.: for the first year, the Directory for Church Government; for the second year, Homiletics; for the third year, the Directory for Worship and the pastoral work generally. In addition each student has exercises in the composition and delivery of sermons, in reading and public speaking, through the whole course of the Seminary.

Advanced Course.

Licentiates are required to give special attention to present forms of skepticism and unbelief, church discipline, exercises in sacred rhetoric and whatever else may be needed to complete their Seminary training, for the work of the ministry in both the home and the foreign fields.

General Information.

Students.

Students are admitted to the Seminary on satisfactory testimonials of a collegiate education, of church membership, piety and suitableness as candidates for the ministry. They are required, if members of the United Presbyterian Church, to be under Presbyterial care, and in all cases to attend regularly and diligently upon all the instructions of the Professors, and to be subject to the authority of the Faculty.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

Students may attend upon the instructions of the Professors, as resident graduates, after the regular course of study has been completed.

Hanna Hall.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two suites of rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed-room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Provision is made for additional rooms as there may be need. The rooms are large and well furnished. There are bath-rooms, a gymnasium and a dining-room. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, and the whole building thoroughly sewered and protected. The Hall is connected with the Seminary, and furnishes the students every desirable convenience and advantage.

In selecting rooms, students who have been longest in attendance at the Seminary have the first choice; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time will choose in the alphabetical order of their names.

Furniture, matresses, pillows and coal are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels and bed-clothes.

The rooms are cared for and the ashes removed by the Janitor.

Expenses.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of six dollars per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at not over $3.00 per week. By the organization of a boarding club the expense may be made still less. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.25 to $4.00 per week.

Excepting a small amount for text books, all other expenses are personal.

Funds.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Young Men's Fund, from which, if need be, a student may borrow, on his own note for five years without interest, such amount as the Committee in charge of it may deem advisable.

Library.

The Library is well selected and carefully catalogued. It is opened to all the students, and furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instructions of the Professors. There is a Library Fund by which new publications of permanent merit are added to the Library from time to time.

There is a Reading Room in connection with the Library, for the benefit of the students.

Gymnasium.

The Gymnasium in Hanna Hall affords facilities for such in-door exercise as may be necessary for recreation and health.

Religious Exercises.

A Students' Prayer Meeting is held every Monday under the direction of one of the Professors, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular congregation and attend upon its ordinances regularly and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath school.

Missionary Society.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society, the object of which is to cultivate a missionary spirit among the students and to prepare for the work. It meets on the first Thursday of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of the Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the next year are:

President—Joseph G. Kennedy.

Vice President—Hugh H. Wallace.

Secretary—John A. Duff.

The Seminary is connected with the Inter-Seminary Alliance.

Practical Work and Advantages.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of eminent pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, and for studying the great questions of our day, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

Studies for the Session of 1882-3.

In Biblical Literature and Criticism: Greek—Selections from the Acts, the Epistles to the Romans and Corinthians. Hebrew—Selections from the Books of Job, Psalms, Proverbs and Ecclesiastes.

In Church Government and History: History of the Reformation of the 16th century and of after centuries, to the present time, with special attention to the origin and distinctions of the churches which, by union, formed the United Presbyterian Church.

In Didactic and Polemic Theology: Creation; providence; angels; good and evil; man; sin; human depravity; its transmission; misery of the race; covenant of works; imputation; covenant of grace; its administration; Christ as Mediator; the incarnation of the Son of God; Mediatorial offices; Jesus the Messiah of the Old Testament.

In Pastoral Theology: The Pastoral work; the delivery of written discourses without using the manuscript; exercises in extemporaneous speaking, and in elocution and reading.

In Apologetics: Skeptical theories relating to the Scriptures, in science, criticism and morals.

The forenoon of every Saturday is given to the delivery and criticism of sermons.

For the benefit of licentiates and post graduates, there will be an an advanced course of three months, beginning on the first Wednesday of October.

Term and Examinations.

The Session opens on the first Wednesday of September and continues to the last Wednesday of March, with the usual vacation at the holidays.

At the close of the Session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

It is very important to the student that he be present at the opening of the Session and continue without interruption to its close. A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Opening and Closing Exercises.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the Session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public closing exercises and giving of diplomas are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

Correspondence.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D. D., 175 Sandusky street, Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the Endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order or registered letter.

Donations and Bequests.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications, and thus be kept in contact with the thought and work of the present time.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. Even now the Faculty should be increased by the election of a fifth Professor in order to give the students the most thorough training for their work.

The claims of the Seminary are therefore submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is favorably located for even better service in the future.

Alumni Association.

The object of the Association is to keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.

Officers for 1881-2.

President: Rev. David R. Kerr, D. D.

Vice President: Rev. James Duncan.

Secretary: Rev. A. G. Wallace D. D.,

The Annual Meeting will be held in the Seminary, on Wednesday, March 29th, 1882, at 2.30 p. m.

THE TERM OF STUDY.

1. The term of study, prior to licensure, is three annual sessions, of seven months each, beginning on the first Wednesday of September and ending the last Wednesday of March.

2. For the benefit of licentiates who have gone through the aforesaid term, there is an advanced course of three months, beginning on the first Wednesday of October.

THE COURSE OF STUDY.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

1. It is inexpedient to designate any special text-book in the department of Systematic Theology, aside from the Scriptures and the subordinate Standards of the Church.

2. The entire system of Theology is divided into three sections, which are studied in their order, in as many sessions, so as to complete the regular course in three years. The first section ends with the topic of the Divine Decrees; the second, with that of the Offices of Christ; the third, with the close of the commonly recognized system.

CHURCH GOVERNMENT AND HISTORY.

1. The attention of the students during the first session is occupied with the history of the Old Testament Church; during the second, with the organization of the New Testament Church and its history to the Reformation; during the third, with the Reformation and the history following to the present time.

2. The Bible, with Kurtz or such other works as are considered useful in different parts of the course, is used as the text-book.

BIBLICAL CRITICISM AND HERMENEUTICS.

1. As far as possible, the whole of the Greek Testament is read in the course of three years; the Gospels forming the section for the first session; the Acts, with the Epistles to the Romans, and the Corinthians, for the second session; and thence to the close of the New Testament, for the third session. In addition, certain portions are selected each session for particular exegetical examination.

2. The reading of the Hebrew Scriptures is in the following order, viz.: selections from the historical books in the first session; selections from the books of Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and the Song of Solomon, in the second session; and selections from the remaining books, in the third session.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY.

In the department of Pastoral Theology the course is divided into three parts, one for each session, in the following order, viz.: for the first year, the Directory for Church Government; for the second year, Homiletics; for the third year, the Directory for Worship and the pastoral work generally. In addition, each student has exercises in the composition and the delivery of sermons, in reading and public speaking, through the whole course of the Seminary.

ADVANCED COURSE.

Licentiates are required to give special attention to present forms of skepticism and unbelief, church discipline, exercises in sacred rhetoric and whatever else may be needed to complete their Seminary training, for the work of the ministry in both the home and the foreign fields.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

STUDENTS.

Students are admitted to the Seminary on satisfactory testimonials of a collegiate education, of church membership, piety and suitableness as candidates for the ministry. They are required, if members of the United Presbyterian Church, to be under Presbyterial care, and in all cases to attend regularly and diligently upon all the instructions of the Professors, and to be subject to the authority of the Faculty.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

Students may attend upon the instructions of the Professors, as resident graduates, after the regular course of study has been completed.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two suites of rooms each consisting of a study and a bed-room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Provision is made for additional rooms as there may be need. The rooms are large and well furnished. There are bath-rooms, a gymnasium and a dining-room. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, and the whole building thoroughly sewered and protected. The Hall is connected with the Seminary, and furnishes the students every desirable convenience and advantage.

In selecting rooms, students who have been longest in attendance at the Seminary have the first choice; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time will choose in the alphabetical order of their names.

Furniture, matresses, pillows and coal are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels and bed-clothes.

The rooms are cared for and the ashes removed by the janitor.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of six dollars per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at reasonable rates. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.25 to $4.00 per week. By the organization of a boarding club the expense may be made still less.

Excepting a small amount for text-books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Young Men's Fund, from which students in need may borrow on the recommendation of their Presbytery.

There is also THE JAMES PURDY SCHOLARSHIP, the proceeds of which, about $300 per year, will be given to two students selected on competitive examinations, who complete the course of study, and devote themselves for six subsequent months to missionary labor.

LIBRARY.

The Library is well selected and carefully catalogued. It is opened to all the students, and furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instructions of the Professors. There is a Library Fund by which new publications of permanent merit are added to the Library from time to time.

There is a Reading Room in connection with the Library, for the benefit of the students.

The students also have the use of the large Library of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

GYMNASIUM.

The Gymnasium in Hanna Hall affords facilities for such indoor exercise as may be necessary for recreation and health.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

A Students' Prayer Meeting is held every Monday under the direction of one of the Professors, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular congregation and attend upon its ordinances regularly and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society, the object of which is to cultivate a missionary spirit among the students and to prepare for the work. It meets on the first Thursday of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of the Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the next year are:

President—THOMAS A. SHAW.
Vice President—ROBERT H. HOOD.
Secretary—ROBERT M. RUSSELL.

The Seminary is connected with the Inter-Seminary Alliance, and the Society with the American Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of eminent pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

STUDIES FOR THE SESSION OF 1883–4.

BIBLICAL LITERATURE AND CRITICISM: Greek—Selections from the Pauline Epistles, beginning with Ephesians. Hebrew—Selections from Proverbs, Isaiah and the Minor Prophets.

CHURCH GOVERNMENT AND HISTORY: The history of the Old Testament Church; Text-Book, the Bible, with all available helps.

HOMILETICS: Broadhus, the text book, studies beginning with the opening chapter. The forenoon of every Saturday is given to the delivery and criticism of sermons.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY: The subjects that will be fully discussed during the session of 1883–4 are the Mediatorial offices of Christ, the tabernacle and its furniture, and the various typical offerings that were prescribed under the law; regeneration, faith, justification, adoption, sanctification, the law, the means of grace; namely, the word of God, the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's supper, and prayer; the state of the soul after death, the resurrection, the second advent and the various topics intimately connected with it.

The books recommended are Dr. Charles Hodge's Systematic Theology, Dabney's Theology, Dick's Lectures, Anderson's Lectures, Stevenson on the Offices of Christ, Stevenson on the Necessity of the Atonement, Crawford on the Atonement, Owen or Junkin on Justification, and Dr. John Anderson on Saving Faith.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY: The Pastoral work, and Church Government and Discipline.

APOLOGETICS: Objections to the Old Testament from science, criticism and morals.

TERM AND EXAMINATIONS.

The Session opens on the first Wednesday of September and continues to the last Wednesday of March, with the usual vacation at the holidays.

At the close of the Session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

It is very important to the student that he be present at the opening of the Session and continue without interruption to its close. A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the Session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public closing exercises and giving of diplomas are held in the First Church, Allegheny on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D. D., 175 Sandusky street, Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the Endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications, and thus be kept in contact with the thought and work of the present time.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. Even now the Faculty should be increased by the election of a fifth Professor in order to give the students the most thorough training for their work.

The claims of the Seminary are therefore submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is favorably located for even better service in the future.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The object of the Association is to keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.

OFFICERS FOR 1882-3.

President—Rev. David Paul, D. D.
Vice President—Rev. R. G. Ferguson.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D. D., 175 Sandusky street, Allegheny, Pa.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. Even now the Faculty should be increased by the election of a fifth Professor, in order to give the students the most thorough training for their work.

The claims of the Seminary are therefore submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is favorably located for even better service in the future.

A competent teacher in elocution is employed each year to give instruction to the students.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

STUDENTS.

Students are admitted to the Seminary on satisfactory testimonials of a collegiate education, of church membership, piety and suitableness as candidates for the ministry. They are required, if members of the United Presbyterian Church, to be under Presbyterial care, and in all cases to attend regularly and diligently upon all the instructions of the Professors, and to be subject to the authority of the Faculty.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two well furnished rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed-room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, and the whole building thoroughly sewered and protected. The Hall is connected with the Seminary building, and is furnished with bath-rooms and every desirable convenience for the students.

In selecting rooms, students who have been longest in attendance at the Seminary have the first choice; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time, will choose in the alphabetical order of their names.

Furniture, mattresses, pillows and coal are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels and bed-clothes.

The rooms are cared for and the ashes removed by the janitor.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of six dollars per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary. If, in exceptional cases, a student is allowed to room alone, an additional rate will be charged, as may be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at reasonable rates. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.50 to $4.50 per week. By the organization of a boarding club the expense may be made still less.

Excepting a small amount for text-books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Young Men's Fund' from which students in need may borrow on the recommendation of their Presbytery.

There is also THE JAMES PURDY SCHOLARSHIP, the proceeds of which, about $300 per year, will be given to two students selected on competitive examinations, who complete the course of study, and devote themselves for six subsequent months to missionary labor.

LIBRARY.

The Library is large and carefully catalogued. It is open to all the students, and furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instructions of the Professors. New publications of permanent merit are added to the Library from time to time.

There is a Reading Room in connection with the Library.

The students also have the use of the very valuable Library of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

A Student's Prayer Meeting is held every Monday, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular Congregation and to attend upon its ordinances regularly and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society which meets on the first Thursday of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of this Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the next year are:

President—JOSEPH A. THOMPSON.

Vice President——— ———.

Secretary—DAVID M. CLELAND.

The Society is connected with the Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance of Allegheny, and the Seminary with the American Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the Session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the Session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public closing exercises and giving of diplomas are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Letters relating to the Endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order, or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. Even now the Faculty should be increased by the election of a fifth Professor, in order to give the students the most thorough training for their work.

The claims of the Seminary are therefore submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is favorably located for even better service in the future.

A competent teacher in elocution is employed each year to give instruction to the students.

STUDIES FOR THE SESSION OF 1886-7.

CHURCH GOVERNMENT AND HISTORY.—In the department of Church Government and History, the studies will be in the history of the Old Testament Church.

The Bible, with Kurtz or such other works as are considered useful, is used as the text book.

HOMILETICS.—In Homiletics the studies will be with the use of Broadhus as a text book.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.—In this department the subjects will be the Mediatorial offices of Christ to the close of the commonly recognized system.

The student will find it very much to his advantage to provide himself with any one or all of the following works, their relative importance and value being indicated by the order in which they are mentioned, viz.: Dr. Charles Hodge's Systematic Theology, Dabney's Theology, Hodge's Outlines, Anderson's Lectures, Dick's Lectures, Fisher's Catechism.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY.—Pond, with Lectures.

APOLOGETICS.—Objections to the Scriptures from Science, Criticism and Morals.

NEW TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND CRITICISM.—Selections from the Pauline Epistles, beginning with Ephesians.

OLD TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND CRITICISM.—Junior Class—Will give their time principally to the learning of the language, and the acquisition of a working vocabulary. They will master the Fifty Lessons in Harper's Introductory Hebrew Method and Manual; read the greater part of Exodus and I. Samuel, and study more critically Ruth and Jonah. Middle and Senior Classes—Review of the Principles of the Language; Translation and Grammatical Analysis of II. Samuel, I. and II. Kings, and Judges; Critical Translation of selected Psalms; the study of the origin and growth of the Hebrew Psalter, and the authorship of the various Psalms; the study of the Principles of Prophecy, in connection with Critical Translations in Isaiah; Critical Papers from the students in Hebrew Exegesis.

In Old Testament Literature, besides the above, a number of the Books of the Bible will be studied as to their age, authenticity, integrity, style, general purpose, and the circumstances and surroundings in which they were written.

ADVANCED COURSE —Licentiates are required to give special attention to present forms of skepticism and unbelief, church discipline, exercises in sacred rhetoric, and whatever else may be needed to complete their Seminary training for the work of the ministry in both the home and the foreign fields.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

STUDENTS.

Students are admitted to the Seminary on satisfactory testimonials of a collegiate education, of church membership, piety and suitableness as candidates for the ministry. They are required, if members of the United Presbyterian Church, to be under Presbyterial care, and in all cases to attend regularly and diligently upon all the instructions of the Professors, and to be subject to the authority of the Faculty.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two well furnished rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed-room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, and the whole building thoroughly sewered and protected. The Hall is connected with the Seminary building, and is furnished with bath-rooms and every desirable convenience for the students.

In selecting rooms, students who have been longest in attendance at the Seminary have the first choice; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time, will choose in the alphabetical order of their names.

Furniture, mattresses, pillows and coal are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels and bed-clothes.

The rooms are cared for and the ashes removed by the janitor.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of $6.00 per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary. If, in exceptional cases, a student is allowed to room alone, an additional rate will be charged, as may be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at reasonable rates. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.50 to $4 50 per week.

Excepting a small amount for text-books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Young Men's Fund, from which students in need may, on satisfactory recommendation, borrow not more than $100 each session.

There is also THE JAMES PURDY SCHOLARSHIP, the proceeds of which, about $300 per year, will be given to two students selected on competitive examinations, who complete the course of study and devote themselves for six subsequent months to missionary labor.

LIBRARY.

The Library is large and carefully catalogued. It is open to all the students, and furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instructions of the Professors. New publications of permanent merit are added to the Library from time to time.

There is a Reading Room in connection with the Library.

The students also have the use of the very valuable Library of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

A Student's Prayer Meeting is held every Monday, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular Congregation and to attend upon its ordinances regularly and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society which meets on the first Thursday of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of this Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the next year are:

President, CHARLES S. PARK.
Secretary, JAMES S. MOFFATT.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunites for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the Session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the Session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public closing exercises and giving of diplomas are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D. D., Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order, or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. Even now the Faculty should be increased by the election of a fifth Professor, in order to give the students the most thorough training for their work.

The claims of the Seminary are, therefore, submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is favorably located for even better service in the future.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The object of this Association is to keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.

THE TERM AND COURSE OF STUDY.

1. The term of study is three annual sessions, of seven months each, beginning on the first Wednesday of September and ending the last Wednesday of March.

2. For the benefit of licentiates who have gone through the aforesaid term, there is an advanced course of three months, beginning on the first Wednesday of October.

3. The course of study in each department is divided into three sections which are studied in their order so as to complete the regular course in three years. See General Assembly Digest, p. 212.

4. Lecturers on special subjects are engaged as circumstances seem to call for them.

A competent teacher in elocution is employed each year to give instruction to the students.

STUDIES FOR THE SESSION OF 1887-8.

CHURCH GOVERNMENT AND HISTORY.—In the department of Church Government and History, the studies will be from the organiation of the New Testament Church down to the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century.

HOMILETICS.—In Homiletics the studies will be with the use of Broadhus as a text-book, beginning with the opening chapter of the book.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY.—The Pastoral Work and Directory for Worship.

APOLOGETICS.—Christian Evidences and Criticism.

OLD TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND CRITICISM.—The Junior Class will give their time principally to the learning of the language, and the acquisition of a working vocabulary. They will master the Fifty Lessons in Harper's Introductory Hebrew Method and Manual, based on Genesis I-VIII.; read a part of Exodus and I. Samuel, and study more critically Ruth and Jonah. Middle and Senior Classes—Review of the principles of the language; translation and grammatical analysis of II. Samuel and Judges; critical translation of selected Psalms; the study of the principles of prophecy, in connection with critical translations in Isaiah and the minor prophets; exegetical papers from the students on passages selected from the Old Testament.

In Old Testament Literature, besides the above, a number of the Books of the Bible will be studied as to their age, authenticity, integrity, style, general purpose, and the circumstances and surroundings in which they were written.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.—In this department the subjects will begin with the Existence of God and close with the Divine Decrees.

The method of instruction is to follow the line of an approved textbook, and to supplement with such lectures as may be deemed necessary to give the student a sufficient view of the ordinary topics of study.

During the past session Hodge's Outlines have been used in the classes. In addition to this volume the student is recommended to provide himself with any or all of the following works, their relative importance being indicated by their order: Hodge's Systematic Theology, Dabney's Theology, Anderson's Lectures, Dick's Lectures, Fisher's Catechism.

NEW TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND CRITICISM.—Selections from the Pauline Epistles.

The Rev. JOHN MCNAUGHTER, Professor elect, and will enter upon his work in this department at the beginning of the next session.

ADVANCED COURSE.—Licentiates are required to give special attention to present forms of skepticism and unbelief, church discipline, exercises in sacred rhetoric, and whatever else may be needed to complete their Seminary training for the work of the ministry in both the home and the foreign fields.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

STUDENTS.

Students are admitted to the Seminary on satisfactory testimonials of a collegiate education, of church membership, piety and suitableness as candidates for the ministry. They are required, if members of the United Presbyterian Church, to be under Presbyterial care, and in all cases to attend regularly and diligently upon all the instructions of the Professors, and to be subject to the authority of the Faculty.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two well furnished rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed-room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, and the whole building thoroughly sewered and protected. The Hall is connected with the Seminary building, and is furnished with bath-rooms and every desirable convenience for the students.

In selecting rooms, students who have been longest in attendance at the Seminary have the first choice; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time, will choose in the alphabetical order of their names.

Furniture, mattresses, pillows and fuel are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels and sheets and pillow cases.

The rooms are cared for by the janitor.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of $6.00 per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary. If, in exceptional cases, a student is allowed to room alone, an additional rate will be charged, as may be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at reasonable rates. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.00 to $3.50 per week.

Excepting a small amount for text-books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

There is in connection with the Seminary, a Young Men's Fund, from which students in need may, on satisfactory recommendation, borrow not more than $100 each session.

There is also THE JAMES PURDY SCHOLARSHIP, the proceeds of which, about $300 per year, will be given to two students selected on competitive examinations, who complete the course of study and devote themselves for six subsequent months to missionary labor.

LIBRARY.

The Library is large and carefully catalogued. It is open to all the students, and furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instructions of the Professors. New publications of permanent merit are added to the Library from time to time.

There is a Reading Room in connection with the Library.

The students also have the use of the very valuable Library of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

A Student's Prayer Meeting is held every Monday, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular Congregation and to attend upon its ordinances regularly and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society which meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of this Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the present year are:

President, W. H. PATTERSON.
Secretary, W. R. WILSON.
Treasurer, SAMUEL N. WARDEN.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the Session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the Session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public graduating exercises are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. D. A. McClenahan, Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order, or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. The Faculty having been increased by the election of a fifth Professor, the expenses are greater than formerly.

The claims of the Seminary are, therefore, submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is favorably located for even better service in the future.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The object of this Association is to keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.

The Term and Course of Study.

1. The term of study is three annual sessions, of seven months each, beginning on the first Wednesday of September and ending the last Wednesday of March.

2. The course of study in each department is divided into three sections, which are studied in their order, so as to complete the regular course in three years. See Digest, p. 212.

3. A competent instructor in elocution and lecturers on special subjects are engaged each year.

STUDIES FOR THE SESSION OF 1888–89.

CHURCH HISTORY.—In the department of Church History, the studies for the next session will begin with the Reformation of the 16th century, and come down over the after history to the present time, with some special attention to the lines of reformation entering into the formation of our own Church.

HOMILETICS.—In Homiletics there will be one recitation a week from text-books, and frequently in outlines of sermons. Students of the first and second years will deliver one carefully prepared discourse, and students of the third year two discourses, before the Faculty on texts assigned them.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY.—The Book of Government, and General Administration and Discipline.

APOLOGETICS.—The Relations of Scientific Theories and Revelation.

BIBLICAL CRITICISM,—Lectures.

OLD TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND CRITICISM.—The Junior Class —Will give their time principally to the learning of the language, and the acquisition of a working vocabulary. They will master the fifty lessons in Harper's Introductory Method and Manual, based on Genesis I–VIII, read more rapidly Genesis IX–XXV, a part of Exodus, and study more critically Ruth and Jonah.

Middle Class.—Review Etymology and Syntax; rapid reading of I. and II. Samuel; critical reading of most of the principal Messianic Prophecies, with a study of the growth and development of the Messianic Idea.

Senior Class.—Exegetical study of Nahum and Malachi; individual work on Amos, Obadiah, Habakkuk, Zephaniah and Haggai; critical and exegetical reading of most of the acknowledged Messianic Prophecies, with a study of the growth and development of the Messianic Idea.

New Testament Literature and Criticism.—The Junior Division, or first-year Class: Critical translation and study of the Epistle to the Philippians and the First Epistle to Timothy; Rapid Critical Reading in Acts; Principles of Bible interpretation, with Dr. Barrows' "Companion to the Bible" as the text-book; Written Lectures on Hellenistic Greek; occasional instruction will be given in New Testament Grammar.

The Senior Division, or second and third-year classes: The Exegetical Study of the Epistle to the Colossians and the First and Second Epistle to the Thessalonians; Rapid Reading of the Gospel according to Mark; written Lectures will be delivered, devoted to introductory matter on the Pauline Epistles.

A critical exercise is expected from every student in both divisions during the session.

Systematic Theology.—The attention of students will be directed especially to the following subjects, viz: Creation, Providence, Angels—Good and Evil, Man, the Moral Constitution of the Soul—Will, Conscience, Liberty, etc.; the Covenant of Works, the Nature of Sin and the Sin of Adam, Original Sin, Inability, Imputation of Sin, the Covenant of Grace and its Administration, the Person of Christ, the Mediatorial Offices, and associated topics.

Hodge's Outlines of Theology will be used as the text-book in this department. It has been in use for two years past, and has the cordial approval of the classes in whose hands it has been placed. Its somewhat peculiar methods allow large room for incidental instruction and brief lectures by the professor in charge, and it is expected that, as heretofore, these will be somewhat liberally employed.

Proper attention is given also to the distinctive principles of the denomination. Van Oosterzee, as a hand-book on the theology of the New Testament, has been used during the past year with success. It is expected that this volume, together with Weidner's Oehler upon the Theology of the Old Testament, will be employed during this year as far as time will permit. The chief purpose in the use of these volumes is to familiarize the student with the English Bible. This is recognized as one of the great demands in theological education, and it is believed that the course here marked out is eminently adapted to secure this end.

ELOCUTION.—Mr. J. P. STEPHEN, the instructor in Elocution, will give a thorough course in teaching in this department, meeting the students both singly and in classes, and combining a careful discussion of principles with abundant and varied vocal exercises.

Instruction in this department will begin the week the Seminary opens, and will continue during September, October, November and December.

General Information.

STUDENTS.

1. Any person wishing to enter the Seminary as a student shall present to the Faculty satisfactory testimonials of his church membership and piety, of his prudent deportment, and of his suitableness as a candidate for the ministry.

2. Every student, intending to enter the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church, shall be under the care of some Presbytery before entering the Seminary, or as soon after as may be possible.

3. Before being admitted to the Seminary every student shall, in the presence of the Faculty, subscribe a written declaration to the effect that while he is a student in the Seminary, he will regularly, punctually and diligently attend upon all the instructions of the Professors, and promptly comply with all lawful requisitions of the Faculty, and be subject to their authority; that he will honestly conform to all the regulations of the Seminary, and that he will not propagate any opinions in opposition to the standards of the United Presbyterian Church.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two well furnished suites of rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, each suite having four windows. All the rooms face either east or west, so that every room gets the sunlight one-half part of the day. The rooms are, therefore, all about equally desirable. The Hall is connected with the Seminary building, and is furnished with a parlor, bath rooms, water closets, natural gas fires, and every desirable convenience for the students. The whole building is thoroughly sewered and protected.

Furniture, mattresses, pillows and fuel are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels, sheets and pillow cases. The rooms are free of rent, and are cared for by the janitor.

First and second year students have the privilege of retaining rooms for the next year, provided they notify the Secretary of the Faculty of their intention before the close of the session. Those longest in attendance have the first choice ; those, who have been in attendance an equal length of time, will choose in the alphabetical order of their names. All other applicants will have rooms assigned them in the order of their applications.

Post graduates will have rooms assigned them, provided the regular students do not occupy all the rooms of the Dormitory.

No student will be allowed to occupy rooms in the Hall during the summer vacation without obtaining permission from the committee in charge of the building, Samuel Dyer, Chairman, and paying room rent in advance at the following rates: $8.00 per month; in case of city missionaries, $6.00 per month, or if two missionaries occupy the same room, $3.00 each per month.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of $10.00 per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary. If, in exceptional cases, a student is allowed to room alone, an additional rate will be charged, as may be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at reasonable rates. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.00 to $3.50 per week.

Excepting a small amount for text-books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

In addition to the aid which a student may receive from the Board of Education, through his Presbytery, he has the advantage of the following funds:

The Young Men's Fund—From which he may, on satisfactory recommendation, borrow not more than $100 each session on his personal note, payable within five years without interest.

The James Purdy Scholarship.—The student of the first year who ranks highest in his class at the end of the term, and has a fair knowledge of vocal music, will receive one-half of the proceeds of the fund, or about $150, during the two following years, provided that he completes the course of study in this Seminary, and will devote himself for six months to missionary labor.

Considering the cheapness of living and the numerous ways in which students may help themselves, this Seminary offers means of financial support surpassed by very few, if any, such institutions in the country.

LIBRARY.

The Library is large, and is open to all the students. It furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instruction of the Professors. During the past two years a large number of new books has been added, especially in the line of commentaries. The effort is being made to keep the library up to the times. During the past year the large and valuable libraries of the late Doctors J. T. Cooper and D. R. Kerr have come into the possession of the Seminary through the bequests of these honored and lamented brethren. There is a Reading Room in connection with the library.

The students also have the use of the very valuable library of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

A Students' Prayer Meeting is held weekly, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular congregation and to attend upon its ordinances regularly and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society which meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of this Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the present year are:

President—W. S. Nevin.
Secretary—S. E. Martin.
Treasurer—S. N. Warden.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public graduating exercises are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. D. A. McClenahan, Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. The Faculty having been increased by the election of a fifth Professor, the expenses are greater than formerly.

The claims of the Seminary are, therefore, submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is furnished for even better service in the future.

Alumni Association.

The object of this Association is keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.

The Term and Course of Study.

1. The term of study is three annual sessions, of seven months each, beginning on the first Wednesday of September and ending the last Wednesday of March.

2. The course of study in each department is divided into three sections, which are studied in their order, so as to complete the regular course in three years. See Digest, p. 212.

3. A competent instructor in elocution and lecturers on special subjects are engaged each year.

STUDIES FOR THE SESSION OF 1889–1890.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY.—Pond, with lectures.

APOLOGETICS.—Objections to the Scriptures from Science, Criticism and Morals.

BIBLICAL CRITICISM.—Lectures.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.—The attention of the classes will be directed especially to the following subjects, viz: The Atonement, Intercession, and Mediatorial Kingship of Christ; Effectual Calling, Regeneration, Faith, Union of Believers with Christ, Repentance, Justification, Adoption with the Order of Application of Redemption, Sanctification, Perseverance of the Saints, Death, and the State of the Soul Afterward; the Resurrection, Second Advent and General Judgment, Heaven and Hell, the Sacraments, Baptism, the Lord's Supper, Prayer, the Law, and associated topics.

Hodge's Outlines of Theology will be used as the textbook in this department. It has been in use for three years past, and has the cordial approval of the classes in whose hands it has been placed. Its somewhat peculiar methods allow large room for incidental instruction and brief lectures by the professor in charge, and it is expected that, as heretofore, these will be somewhat liberally employed.

Proper attention is given also to the distinctive principles of the denomination.

Van Oosterzee, as a hand-book on the Theology of the New Testament, has been used during the past year with success. Weidner's Oehler upon the Theology of the Old Testament will be used during this year as far as time will permit. The chief purpose in the use of these volumes is to familiarize the student with the English Bible.

Old Testament Literature and Criticism.—Junior Class.—The learning of the language and the acquisition of a working vocabulary, the fifty lessons in Harper's Introductory Method and Manual, based Gen. I–VIII, and more rapid reading of Genesis IX–XXV and a part of Exodus.

Middle Class.—A review of Etymology and Syntax; a critical study of Isaiah I–XII, and Haggai and the principles of prophecy.

Senior Class.—An Exegetical Study of Joel, Haggai, and Isaiah I–XII, with special attention to the study of the principles of Prophecy.

Besides the work indicated above, all the classes will study certain books of the Old Testament in English, with reference to their authorship, time of composition, historical setting, theme, outline and purpose.

New Testament Literature and Criticism.—The Senior Division, or second and third year classes.—Concurrent Exegetical Study of the four Gospels; lectures devoted especially to introductory matter on the Gospels.

The Junior Division, or first year class.—Exegetical Study of the Pastoral Epistles and the First and Second Epistles to the Thessalonians; rapid critical reading of the Catholic Epistles; study of New Testament Grammar; lectures on Hellenistic Greek and New Testament Introduction.

A critical exercise is expected from each student during the session.

Homiletics.—Analyses of texts and outlines of sermons; Phelps' Theory of Preaching. Students of the first and second years will deliver one discourse, and students of the third year two discourses, before the faculty, on texts assigned them.

Church History.—The Old Testament from the period of the Judges, and the Life of Christ.

In the former, Israel's connection with other nations will be illustrated by the recent discoveries in Egypt and Syria. In the latter, the Gospels will be the text book, with references to standard works on the subject.

Elocution.—The instruction in this department will begin with the opening of the term and continue four months. Prof. J. P. Stephen will meet the students both singly and in classes. The course of training is thorough, combining a careful discussion of the principles with abundant and varied vocal exercises. Being eminently practical and free from extravagances, arbitrary rules, which so often destroy naturalness and spontaneity, are made unnecessary.

General Information.

STUDENTS.

1. Any person wishing to enter the Seminary as a student shall present to the Faculty satisfactory testimonials of his church membership and piety, of his prudent deportment, and of his suitableness as a candidate for the ministry.

2. Every student, intending to enter the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church, shall be under the care of some Presbytery before entering the Seminary, or as soon after as may be possible.

3. Before being admitted to the Seminary every student shall, in the presence of the Faculty, subscribe a written declaration to the effect that while he is a student in the Seminary he will regularly, punctually and diligently attend upon all the instructions of the Professors, and promptly comply with all lawful requisitions of the Faculty, and be subject to their authority; that he will honestly conform to all the regulations of the Seminary, and that he will not propagate any opinions in opposition to the standards of the United Presbyterian Church.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-two well furnished suites of rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, each suite having four windows. All the rooms face either east or west, so that every room gets the sunlight one-half of the day. The rooms are, therefore, all about equally desirable. The Hall is connected with the Seminary building, and is furnished with a parlor, bath rooms, water closets, natural gas fires, and every desirable convenience for the students. The whole buiilding is thoroughly sewered and protected.

Furniture, mattresses, pillows and fuel are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels, sheets and pillow cases. The rooms are free of rent, and are cared for by the janitor.

First and second year students have the privilege of retaining rooms for the next year, provided they notify the Secretary of the Faculty of their intention before the close of the session. Those longest in attendance have the first choice; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time will choose in the alphabetical order of their names. All other applicants will have rooms assigned them in the order of their applications.

Post graduates will have rooms assigned them, provided the regular students do not occupy all the rooms of the Dormitory.

No student will be allowed to occupy rooms in the Hall during the summer vacation without obtaining permission from the committee in charge of the building, Samuel Dyer, Chairman, and paying room rent in advance at the following rates: $8.00 per month; in case of city missionaries, $6.00 per month, or if two missionaries occupy the same room, $3.00 each per month.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of $10.00 per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary. If, in exceptional cases, a student is allowed to room alone, an additional rate will be charged, as may be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

Boarding is furnished in the Hall at reasonable rates. Boarding may be had in private families, if preferred, at from $3.00 to $3.50 per week.

Excepting a small amount for text books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

In addition to the aid which a student may receive from the Board of Education, through his Presbytery, he has the advantage of the following funds:

The Young Men's Fund.—From which he may, on satisfactory recommendation, borrow not more than $100 each session on his personal note, payable within five years without interest.

The James Purdy Scholarship.—The student of the first year who ranks highest in his class at the end of the term, and has a fair knowledge of vocal music, will receive one-half of the proceeds of the fund, or about $150, during the two following years, provided that he completes the course of study in this Seminary, and will devote himself for six months to missionary labor.

Considering the cheapness of living and the numerous ways in which students may help themselves, this Seminary offers means of financial support surpassed by very few, if any, such institutions in the country.

LIBRARY.

The Library is large, and is open to all the students. It furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instruction of the Professors. During the past two years a large number of new books have been added, especially in the line of commentaries. The effort is made to keep the library up to the times. The large and valuable libraries of the late Doctors J. T. Cooper and D. R. Kerr, and many valuable books from the library of the late Dr. John Forsyth, have come into the possession of the Seminary. There is a Reading Room in connection with the library.

The students also have the use of the very valuable library of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

A Students' Prayer Meeting is held weekly, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular congregation and to attend upon its ordinances regularly, and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society which meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

An annual missionary sermon to the students is delivered, on the invitation of this Society, in the Third Church, Allegheny, on the third Sabbath of February, at 7:30 P. M.

The officers for the present year are:

President—S. E. Martin.
Secretary—W. M. Nichol.
Treasurer—J. C. Millen.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to his Presbytery.

A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Every student, who has completed the required course of study and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7:30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public graduating exercises are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7:30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. D. A. McClenahan, D. D., Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., 38 Federal street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. The Faculty having been increased by the election of a fifth Professor, the expenses are greater than formerly.

The claims of the Seminary are, therefore, submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is furnished for even better service in the future.

Alumni Association.

The object of this Association is to keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.

OFFICERS FOR 1888–1889.

The Term and Course of Study.

1. The term of study is three annual sessions, of seven months each, beginning on the first Wednesday of September, and ending the last Wednesday of March.

2. The course of study in each department is divided into three sections, which are studied in their order, so as to complete the regular course in three years.

3. A competent instructor in elocution is engaged each year.

STUDIES FOR THE SESSION OF 1890-1891.

PASTORAL THEOLOGY.—Directory for Worship.

APOLOGETICS.—Evidences of Christianity and Criticism.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.—The attention of the classes will be directed especially to the following subjects, viz : An Outline of Theological Study ; the Idea of God and Proof of His Existence ; the Sources of Theology ; Inspiration of the Scriptures and their Authority as the Rule of Faith ; a Comparison of Theological Systems ; Creed and Confessions ; the Attributes of God ; the Doctrines of the Trinity, Divinity of Christ and Divinity and Personality of the Holy Spirit ; the Decrees ; the Creation of the World, and kindred topics.

Hodge's Outlines of Theology will be used as a text book in this department. It has been in use for a number of years and has the cordial approval of the classes in whose hands it has been placed. Lectures, as heretofore, will be liberally employed to supplement the course of instruction offered by the text book.

Due attention will be given to the distinctive principles of the denomination.

Weidner's Oehler upon the Theology of the Old Testament has been used with profit during the past year in the study of Biblical Theology. Van Oosterzee upon the Theology of the New Testament will be used this year as far as time will permit. The chief purpose of these volumes is to bring the student directly into connection with the English Bible.

CHURCH HISTORY.—The instruction on the Apostolic Period will be by lecture.

On the Period from 100 to 1500 A. D., the new edition of Kurtz's Church History will be used as a text book.

OLD TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND CRITICISM.—Junior Class.—The learning of the language and acquisition of a working vocabulary, the fifty lessons in Harper's Introductory Method and Manual, based on Gen. I-VIII, a more rapid reading of Genesis, IX-XXV and a part of Exodus, and a study of the Hebrew Feasts. Those who have studied Hebrew before entering the Seminary will form a separate class, study Hebrew Syntax, and do more critical and exegetical work.

Middle and Senior Classes.—A critical study of selected Psalms and portions of Proverbs based upon the Hebrew text ; from the English Bible the books of Job and Ecclesiastes.

NEW TESTAMENT EXEGESIS AND LITERATURE.—Middle and Senior Classes.—The Epistles to the Romans and the Colossians will be the subject of exegetical study. Students are recommended to secure the commentaries of Hodge, Shedd and Godet on Romans, and those of Ellicott, Eadie and Lightfoot on Colossians.

Lectures will be delivered weekly on the Genuineness and Authenticity of the Gospels, the Apostolic Epistles generally, and the Pauline Epistles.

Junior Class.—The Pastoral Epistles, (1st and 2d Timothy and Titus) will be the field of exegetical study. Commentaries recommended : Fairbairn, Ellicott, Van Oosterzee in Lange.

There will be a rapid critical reading of the Gospel according to John.

Lectures will be delivered weekly on the following subjects, viz : Hellenistic Greek, General Introduction to the New Testament and the Gospels.

A special exegesis of some assigned passage will be expected from each student during the session.

General Information.

STUDENTS.

1. Any person wishing to enter the Seminary as a student shall present to the Faculty satisfactory testimonials of his Church membership and piety, of his prudent deportment, and of his suitableness as a candidate for the ministry.

2. Every student, intending to enter the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church, shall be under the care of some Presbytery before entering the Seminary, or as soon after as may be possible.

3. Before being admitted to the Seminary every student shall, in the presence of the Faculty, subscribe a written declaration to the effect that while he is a student in the Seminary he will regularly, punctually and diligently attend upon all the instructions of the Professors, and promptly comply with all lawful requisitions of the Faculty, and be subject to their authority ; that he will honestly conform to all the regulations of the Seminary, and that he will not propagate any opinions in opposition to the standards of the United Presbyterian Church.

HANNA HALL.

The Dormitory, known as Hanna Hall, has twenty-five well furnished suites of rooms, each consisting of a study and a bed room, and designed for the accommodation of two students. Great care has been taken to have every room well lighted and ventilated, each suite having four windows. All the rooms face either east or west, so that every room gets the sunlight one-half of the day. The rooms are, therefore, all about equally desirable. The hall is connected with the Seminary building, and is furnished with bath rooms, water closets, natural gas fires, and every desirable convenience for the students. The whole building is thoroughly sewered and protected.

In order to provide the most modern conveniences and to secure the best sanitary conditions, the water closets have been put in a new annex to the building, by which they are entirely isolated from the rooms of the dormitory.

Furniture, mattresses, pillows and fuel are furnished by the Seminary. Students furnish their own lights, towels, sheets and pillow cases. The rooms are free of rent, and are cared for by the janitor.

First and second year students have the privilege of retaining rooms for the next year, provided they notify the Secretary of the Faculty of their intention before the close of the session. Those longest in attendance have the first choice ; those who have been in attendance an equal length of time will choose in the alphabetical order of their names. All other applicants will have rooms assigned them in the order of their applications.

Post-graduates will have rooms assigned them, provided the regular students do not occupy all the rooms of the Dormitory.

No student will be allowed to occupy rooms in the Hall during the summer vacation without obtaining permission from the committee in charge of the building, Dr. W. H. McMillan, Chairman, and paying room rent in advance at $8.00 per month for each room occupied.

EXPENSES.

No tuition fees are charged. Students rooming in Hanna Hall pay a contingent fee of $10.00 per session, payment to be made to the Treasurer within four weeks after their entrance into the Seminary. If, in exceptional cases, a student is allowed to room alone, an additional rate will be charged, as may be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

Boarding may be had in proximity to the Hall at from $3.00 to $3.50 per week.

Excepting a small amount for text books, all other expenses are personal.

FUNDS.

In addition to the aid which a student may receive from the Board of Education, through his Presbytery, or by direct application to the Board, he has the advantage of the following funds :

THE YOUNG MEN'S FUND.—From this fund he may, on satisfactory recommendation, borrow not more than $100 each session on his personal note, payable within five years without interest.

JAMES PURDY SCHOLARSHIP.—The student of the first year who ranks highest in his class at the end of the term, and has a fair knowledge of vocal music, will receive one-half of the proceeds of the fund, or about $150, during each of the two following years, provided he completes the course of study in this Seminary, and will devote himself for six months to missionary labor.

Considering the cheapness of living and the numerous ways in which students can help themselves, the Seminary offers means of financial support surpassed by very few, if any, such institutions in the country.

LIBRARY.

The Library is large, and is open to all the students. It furnishes ample scope for reading and investigation in connection with the instruction of the Professors. During the past three years a large number of new books have been added, especially in the line of commentaries. The effort is made to keep the library up to the times. The large and valuable libraries of the late Doctors J. T. Cooper and D. R. Kerr, and many valuable books from the library of the late Dr. John Forsyth, have come into the possession of the Seminary. There is a Reading Room in connection with the library.

The students also have the use of the City and the Free Carnegie libraries.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

Daily chapel exercises are held.

Students' Prayer Meetings are held weekly, at which all the students are expected to be present.

Each student is expected to be associated with some particular congregation and to attend upon its ordinances regularly, and take part, as called upon, in its prayer meeting and Sabbath School.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

There is in connection with the Seminary a Missionary Society which meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

The officers for the present year are :

President.—W. I. WISHART.
Secretary.—W. C. ADAIR.
Treasurer.—J. M. WELCH.

The Society is connected with the Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance of Allegheny, and the Seminary with the American Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance.

PRACTICAL WORK AND ADVANTAGES.

The students enjoy very favorable opportunities for Christian work in connection with the congregations, missions and public institutions of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, and many are so engaged each session.

The Ministerial Associations of the cities, the stated services of pastors, the numerous public lectures and special addresses by noted men, the organizations for benevolent work incident to dense populations, the frequent meetings in connection with the general interests of religion and special departments of moral work, give to the students very valuable opportunities for intellectual and literary culture, for studying present religious and moral questions in connection with evangelical work, and for hearing the best ministers and platform speakers. At the same time the location of the Seminary is quiet and favorable to unbroken study.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the session written examinations are held in the several departments of study. From these examinations, and his attendance and deportment, the grade of the student is determined and reported to the Presbytery.

A failure to be present at the examinations without a satisfactory excuse involves a loss of grade.

Every student who has completed the required course of study, and has passed a satisfactory examination, receives a Diploma.

OPENING AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

An opening address by one of the Professors is delivered on the second Sabbath of September, at 7.30 P. M., in the Second Church, Allegheny.

A Baccalaureate Sermon is delivered on the Sabbath evening previous to the close of the session, in the Fourth Church, Allegheny.

The public graduating exercises are held in the First Church, Allegheny, on the last Wednesday of March, at 7.30 P. M.

CORRESPONDENCE.

All letters concerning boarding, the studies, or the work of the Seminary, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Faculty, Rev. D. A. McClenahan, D. D., Allegheny, Pa.

Letters relating to the endowment and funds should be addressed to the Treasurer, S. L. McHenry, corner Seventh avenue and Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Remittances should be made to him by draft on Pittsburgh or New York, P. O. money order or registered letter.

DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS.

There is great need for the increase of the Library Fund, that students may be furnished with the latest and best publications.

The endowment is altogether inadequate to the proper support of the Seminary. The Faculty having been increased by the election of a fifth Professor, the expenses are greater than formerly.

The claims of the Seminary are, therefore, submitted to the consideration of all who may wish to honor the Lord with their substance. Congregations as well as individuals are asked to give their help to the full equipment of the institution. Appeal is also made to all who purpose making bequests to remember this Seminary, which has rendered so much important service to the Church, and which is furnished for even better service in the future.

Alumni Association.

The object of this Association is to keep alive remembrances of Seminary life, a continued interest in Seminary work, and, especially, in the office and work of its members as ministers of the Gospel.
